

New Juvenile Fiction

December 2019

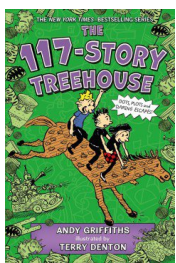

Sal & Gabi Break the Universe
by Carlos Alberto Pablo Hernandez
A teen troublemaker with a talent for sleight of hand clashes with his school's student council president when the latter accuses him of putting a raw chicken inside a friend's locker.

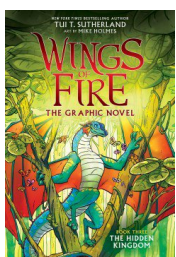

The Mystery of Black Hollow Lane
by Julia Nobel
Arriving at a prestigious boarding school only to become the unexpected recipient of her long-missing father's mysterious medallions, Emmy stumbles on a secret society that may or may not be behind her father's disappearance.

The Accomplice
by John Grisham
Theodore Boone, the ever-clever lawyer-in-training, returns to find one of Theo's best friends, Woody Lambert, under arrest for a crime he didn't commit, which compels Theo to focus his skills on exonerating Woody and shielding him from an unforgiving youth court system.

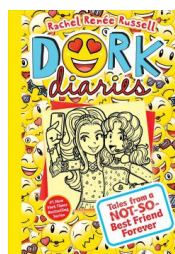

The 117-story Treehouse
by Andy Griffiths
The best-selling creators of Killer Koalas From Outer Space find Andy and Terry riotously upgrading their fantastical, super-duper top-secret treehouse by an additional 13 stories.

The Hidden Kingdom
by Barry Deutsch
Seeking shelter in the rainforest with her fellow dragonets, Glory is disappointed to find treetops full of RainWings who know nothing of Pyrrhia or its missing dragons, a dilemma that complicates their efforts to prevent a devastating war.

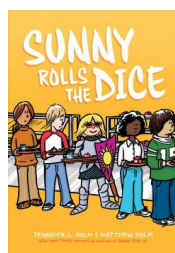

Knock Three Times
by Cressida Cowell
Heroes Xar and Wish combine their Magic and Iron abilities to save their beloved world from the destructive Nuckalavee. By the best-selling author of the How to Train Your Dragon series.

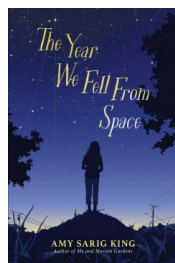

Tales From a Not-So-Best Friend Forever
by Rachel Renée Russell
Looking forward to an awesome summer on tour as the opening act for a world-famous band, Nikki is horrified when her frenemy, MacKenzie, weasels her way into a social media internship and is assigned to be her roommate.

Fetch-22
by Dav Pilkey
Dog Man and a rehabilitated Petey the Cat are challenged to set aside their differences and work as a team in the face of a dangerous threat that has challenged Li'l Petey's sense of right and wrong.

Sunny Rolls the Dice
by Jennifer L. Holm
Sunny's life becomes confusing when she starts middle school, with her best friend Deb's interests changing to fashion, boys, makeup, and being cool, while Sunny would rather play Dungeons & Dragons with friends.

The Year We Fell From Space
by A. S. King
Seeing remarkable patterns and pictures in a night sky that were introduced to her by her now-absent father, Liberty struggles with inconsistencies in her family's views while trying to map out a better future.

Fleming Branch
5020 Serena Dr
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Branch
4080 John Charles Blvd
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca