

New Juvenile Fiction

March 2020

Race to the Sun

by Rebecca Roanhorse

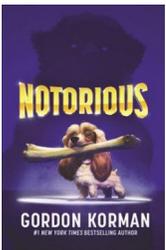

Guided by her Navajo ancestors, seventh-grader Nizhoni Begay discovers she is descended from a holy woman and destined to become a monsterslayer, starting with the evil businessman who kidnapped her father.

Cog

by Greg Van Eekhout

Activated in an unfamiliar lab after being damaged in an accident, a highly advanced robot recruits four robot accomplices to help him find the missing scientist who created and cared for him.

Notorious

by Gordon Korman

Moving to an unfamiliar island split between the United States and Canada, Keenan learns about the island's Prohibition-era smuggling history from an unconventional neighbor who believes her dog has been murdered.

The Body Under the Piano

by Marthe Jocelyn

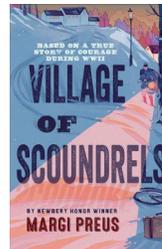

A middle grade mystery series follows the experiences of young Aggie Morton of 1902 England, who fatefully crosses paths with a 12-year-old Belgian immigrant at the same time they stumble into a murder scene.

Winterborne Home for Vengeance and Valor

by Ally Carter

Discovering a presumed-dead billionaire hiding in the basement of Winterborne House, 12-year-old April teams up with her fellow orphans to solve a creepy riddle before the only home they have ever known is lost.

Village of scoundrels : based on a true story of courage during WWII

by Margi Preus

The Newbery Honor-winning author recounts the incredible true story of a group of French teens, from a forger to a smuggler, who risked their lives to help Jewish refugees during World War II.

Here in the Real World

by Sara Pennypacker

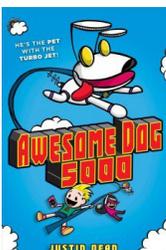

Immersing himself in fantasy worlds of knights and chivalry where he prefers being left alone, young Ware is sent to a summer camp designed around social interactions and begins building a castle-like private space while clashing with a fellow misfit.

Confessions of a Dork Lord

by Michael Johnston

A hapless warlock-in-training struggles to live up to his great and terrible destiny as the next in line to rule the Grim World in the face of his father's disappearance, magic gone wrong and inconvenient allergies.

Awesome Dog 5000

by Justin Dean

After moving to a new town, fifth-grader Marty worries about fitting in and must go up against a scientist out for revenge when he discovers a robotic dog in his new house

Me and Banksy

by Tanya Lloyd Kyi

When someone hacks into her school's security videos and broadcasts students at embarrassing moments, Dominica expresses her anger through graffiti, and then wonders if she might use her artistic talent to do something about the problem.

Fleming Branch
5020 Serena Dr
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Branch
4080 John Charles Blvd
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca