

New Juvenile Fiction

May 2018

Peanut Butter and Jelly
by Ben Clanton

Natalia takes the lead
by Clare Hutton
Helping out at the inn when several guests arrive with dogs, including two adorable pooches scheduled to be ring bearers in a wedding, an excited Natalia accepts several pet-sitting jobs and quickly gets in over her head.

Carlos gets the sneezes : Exploring Allergies
by Judy Katschke
"In this addition to our Magic School Bus Rides Again Branches Series, the class travels inside Carlos' nose after he develops a mysterious illness."

Ice Wolves
by Amie Kaufman
Growing up in a world where people shape-shift into one of two enemy species, 12-year-old orphan Anders is dismayed when his twin, Rayna, shifts into an opposing form and is stolen away by cruel and brutal dragon abductors.

The Lotterys Plus One
by Emma Donoghue
A self-proclaimed "good girl" from a very large and unruly family gives up her bedroom to make room for an estranged, grumpy grandparent who can no longer care for himself and who does not approve of how the rest of the family lives.

Lydia the reading fairy
by Daisy Meadows
When Jack Frost starts causing trouble at the Fairyland School and the School Day Fairies need help, best friends Kirsty and Rachel come to the rescue during a special week when they are both going to the same school.

The Whispering Oak
by Katrina Charman

Quest Mode : An Unofficial Minecraft Adventure
by Cube Kid

Hello universe
by Erin Entrada Kelly
Two boys and two girls explore respective views about courage and being different in the wake of a prank that traps one of them at the bottom of a well and compels the others to embark on a search-and-rescue mission.

Catstronauts 4 : Robot Rescue
by Drew Brockington

Fleming Branch
5020 Serena Dr
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Branch
4080 John Charles Blvd
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca