

New Juvenile Fiction

November 2019

Charlie Thorne and the Last Equation

by Stuart Gibbs

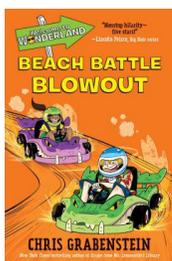

A series debut by the best-selling author of the Spy School adventures introduces child genius Charlie Thorne, who uses her elite skills to crack a complex code created by Albert Einstein that could benefit or destroy all life on the planet.

A Tale of Magic

by Chris Colfer

A tale set in the universe of the Land of Stories finds 14-year-old Brystal pursuing creative ways of obtaining books in an oppressive Southern Kingdom where women are forbidden to read.

Beach Battle Blowout

by Chris Grabenstein

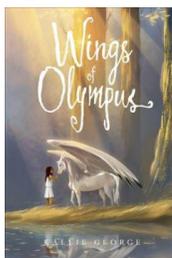

Resolving to win a best-on-the-beach contest, Wonderland contestants P. T. and Gloria use their sleuthing skills to identify secret contest judges and devise winning attractions.

Dragon Ghosts

by Lisa McMann

While a grief-stricken Fifer struggles to regroup and search for her twin, Thisbe is haunted by Grimere's dark past and her own abandonment, compelling her to consider leaving Rohan behind and risking her life to return home.

Wings of Olympus

by K. George

The first part of a planned duology set in Ancient Greece traces the friendship between orphan Pippa and her daring but undersized winged horse, Zephyr, who are unexpectedly chosen to compete in Mount Olympus' legendary race.

Homerooms & Hall Passes

by Tom O'Donnell

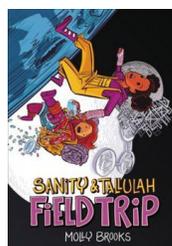

A series debut that finds five young adventurers from a fantasy role-playing game transported into the human world, where they tackle the unexpected challenges of surviving middle school.

Heart of the Moors

by Holly Black

In a novel set between the events of "Maleficent" and "Maleficent: Mistress of Evil," a newly-queened Aurora struggles to be the best leader she can while her beau, Prince Phillip, longs to get to know Aurora and her kingdom better.

Field Trip

by Molly Brooks

Separated from their schoolmates during a field trip to another planet, Sanity and Tallulah find themselves stranded with nothing but the wreckage of a crashed shuttle and the contents of Tallulah's overloaded backpack to help them get home safely.

The Stars Below

by David Baldacci

A conclusion to the award-winning series finds Vega Jane and her ragtag crew risking everything in a fight for justice against a fully trained army. By the best-selling author of The Finisher

Dragon Pearl

by Yoon Ha Lee

Longing for adventure in the Thousand Worlds, away from the strict rules that force her to hide her descendance from fox spirits, 13-year-old Min embarks on a quest to find her brother, who has been accused of abandoning his post to search for a mystical object of power.

Fleming Branch
5020 Serena Dr
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Branch
4080 John Charles Blvd
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca